Yale Squad Drilled in Difficult Formations of Attack and Defence.

By W. O. McGEHEE.

New Haven, Sept. 18.—The Yale squad went through some real battle formation this afternoon. A tentative first team, using a few of the formations that Eli plans to employ in match games, crashed through a scrub team for an easy touchdown. Le Gore and Bingham, the present first line half-backs, making a couple of beautiful end runs.

There was an invigorating snap in their work when the squad turned out in the old football field at 4 o'clock, and Head Coach Tad Jones decided to put a touch of realism into the afternoon's work. There were two end runs that would have furnished melodrama for a real match game, and a fine display of the "Held 'em Yale" spirit by the second team on the five-yard line. But the theoretical first team shot the ball over with a fine line plunge and Cupid Black kicked a geometrical perfect goal.

The first team which Coach Jones assembled at the beginning of the scrimmage work lines up as follows:

A Preliminary Formation.

This, of course, is merely a preliminary formation. Some of the men who are fairly certain of making the first team were playing scrub, and some of these showed up brilliantly on the defensive.

It was snappy practice work, and the pace told on the young athletes, who are only in the preliminary stage of the hardening up process. Coach Jones was a way of getting things into the practice work that is infectious. He had that second team fighting as hard as though it was Harvard that they were trying to push back from the five-yard line.

The theory at Yale now is that no job on the first team is a certainty. Every position on the team is open to every man who is willing to fight for it. Even the scrub squad has accepted the theory in good faith. There are no candidates for substitutes' places. Every man jock in the squad is out to earn a first line position, if it can be won by brain, dash and speed.

It is a confident but not boastful hub squad this year. They get very little consolation out of the announcement that Harvard will muster only all-rookie team while Yale will be strengthened by veteran wearers of the moosekin. They expect a win, not only from Harvard but from Princeton, and they are preparing for a scrupulous season.

Fifty Candidates.

The squad at present numbers fifty. The men who signed up are still in service with the Yale battery at Camp. But they are expected back this week. Among them is "Tab" Sheldon, the very useful tackle, whose services will be very eagerly required for the Blue this year.

About forty turned out yesterday.

Four Princeton Players Survive in Golf Tourney

Pittsburgh, Sept. 18.—The intercollegiate individual golf championship played on the links of the Oakland Country Club to-day, but after the qualifying and the first match rounds had been completed only eight players from three of the eight colleges and universities originally represented remained.

Princeton had four players survive, Hendon Herron, D. C. Corkran, Percy Parker, Jr., and Howard Maxwell, Jr. Wilson, three, Captain C. L. Weems, John Simpson and J. N. McDonald, and Harvard one, J. W. Hubbell. Herron led the field with a score of 80.

The biggest surprise of the day was the elimination of Frank Blossom, of Yale, the present title holder, by Percy Parker, Jr., of Princeton, in the first round. Parker won his match, 3 and 1. Another surprise was the failure of the University of Wisconsin to send a representative, the present Western individual intercollegiate champion, who returned to the clubhouse after taking part in the second hole.

Of the forty-four starters in the qualifying round only twenty-four returned their cards, the remainder picking up their balls because of trouble in going over the course.

The first round of the tournament, which was expected to be a close one, was expected to be a close one, but it was defeated by C. L. Weems, captain of Illinois. Herron and Corkran both won their matches, but one of them will be eliminated in the second round. McDonald will play Harvard.

The weather to-day was far from being ideal, a cold wind making straight drives difficult, which resulted in the scores being higher than on the previous days of the tournament.
